KERC announces hike in power tariff

Bengaluru, May 14- With the Assembly elections over, the Karnataka Electricity Regulatory Commission (KERC) has announced a steep hike in power tariff across all the Electricity Supply Companies (ESComs) in the State.

Announcing the hike at Bengaluru this morning, KERC Chairman M. K. Shankarlinge Gowda said that the decision on the hike had been taken following meetings with all stakeholders.

Giving a brief on power tariff hike, Shankarlinge Gowda said that tariff has been hiked by 82 paise per unit in BESCom (Bengaluru), Re. 1.13 in CESC (Mysuru), Re. 1.23 in MESCom (Mangaluru), Re. 1.13 in HESCom (Hubballi) and Re. 1.62 in GESCom (Kalaburagi) limits.

M. K. Shankarlinge Gowda

Pointing out that percentage wise, the power tariff has been hiked by 13 per cent in BESCom limits, 18% in CESC, 19% each in MESCom & HESCom and 26% in GESCom limits, he said that the tariff hike has come into retrospective effect from April 1.

Continuing, the KERC Chairman said that all the stakeholders, including the ESComs had placed proposals before the Commission to increase the tariff from 83 paise to Re.1.10, citing drought and coal shortage.

Grooming gen-next

The pick of the playwrights, William Shakespeare (1564-1616), famously identified as the Bard of Stratford upon Avon wrote his famous line "All the world is a stage and all the men and women merely players" in the play As you like it. Whether anyone accepts or not, they have their exits and entrances. The sharp-brained Irish playwright and poet Oscar Wilde (1854-1900) put a spin on the Bard's metaphoric phrase by adding the line "The World is a stage, and the play is badly cast." Taking stock of the goings on in the land, both during normal times and on occasions such as elections of people's representatives to various Legislative Bodies like the 15th poll to Karnataka Legislative Assembly, the players in the action have unwittingly proved to be living examples of Wilde's statement which sounds very plain and simple but has its deep meaning and loud message, clearly exposing the vote-seeking flock for their lack of etiquette and despicable behaviour in public.

Peering into the abysmal state of ambience in which the society finds itself nowadays, one is constrained to look for the factors governing the unedifying conduct of the adults of the land in general, barring the well-groomed sections. Which section in the nation's mass outnumber which other section between the two is a matter of conjecture. However, the undesirable kind in the population are holding sway upon the well-behaving lot, but what portends for the future is not difficult to visualise.

One question that looms large is: Did the highly rated teachers of the past neglect the task of grooming their wards in school into products with not only competency to face life's challenges but also an outlook of being orderly, disciplined and law-abiding? Or, the other question: Did the earlier generation in question totally betray their goodly teachers at school stage by not imbibing the much-needed virtues, ending up with their present none-too-flattering profile? The answer to these questions takes us to the dire need of neither neglecting the role of teachers nor remaining unconcerned about the future of the land and its gen-next.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Mumbai spewed 750 MT of plastic every day, a sixth of its total garbage. These MT vessels had earlier prompted a lot of official noise. But, sarkar proposed and bhajiwalla disposed. Bazaar-goers just kept demanding: 'Plastic bags are our birthright, and we shall have them.' Several committees have already deliberated on the protests and cons of the recent ban. More for sure will add to the solid time-waste they have generated. But let me report from the street and co-op housing society. Desperate housewives are trying to rid themselves of this everyday object that's suddenly as tainted as black money. Everyone's bracing herself for a recycled demonetisation nightmare. People are getting anxiety attacks over again having to queue up at disposal points for hours, bio-degrading by the minute in the heat. A Quit Plastics Movement may mimic 1942. This 20 micron monster will pile up, like British goods, on every street corner. Hopefully, no over-enthusiastic fellow will set fire to these symbols of pollution raj. On the other hand, manufacturers may intensify their resistance, perhaps even launch a subversive underground movement by planting plastic bags in strategic spots. Reinforcements will come from raddiwallas reeling under the double whammy of no more plastic containers and a drastic drop in their other stock in trade. Where have all the old newspapers gone? Gone to line garbage bins, every one. How will we ever earn? Who knows, rare plastic bags could become the next collectible; surreptitiously traded, privately flaunted. But consider this. Plastic bags now being the new anti-national, vigilantes may soon roam the streets, pouncing on anyone carrying them. Next be prepared for a vicious army of plastic-rakshasas.

Family chased by cheetahs

Brabant: A family of five who got out of their car at Beekse Bergen Safari Park at Brabant province in the Netherlands had a close call when they were chased back to their vehicle by cheetahs.

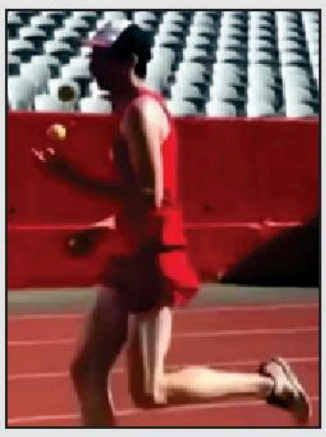
Video filmed by witnesses in another car shows the family, which includes very small children, getting out of their car to get a closer look at some cheetahs lounging nearby only to be chased back to the car by the cheetahs.

The family returns to their car moments later without incident and drive a ways up the road, where they again get out of their vehicle.

A Manager at the safari park, said that guests are warned in multiple languages not to get out of their vehicles on park grounds.

"The cheetahs are on a food schedule so they are not extremely hungry and are not in the hunt," the Manager said.

Student breaks 'Joggling' speed record



Boston: A student from Boston with enthusiasm for both juggling and jogging combined his interests to break the Guinness World Record for "joggling."

Zach Prescott, who competes in track and cross county for Boston University, juggled three lacrosse balls while running a mile recently with a time of 4 minutes, 43.2 seconds.

The current Guinness record for joggling a mile was set in 1986 by Kurt Swinson, who completed the task with a time of 4 minutes, 43.8 seconds.

Prescott said his feat at Boston University's Nickerson Field was actually his third attempt of the day, after twice dropping balls.

Evidence of Prescott's run, including video footage, has been submitted to Guinness for official recognition.

VOICE OF THE READER

Act strict on traffic violators

Sir,

The rise in the number of road accidents and related deaths or injuries in our country is indeed worrying one and all. To curtail this trend, strict actions are being taken in some States without waiting for the proposed amendments in the road safety bill.

During the last financial year (2017-18) more than 2.53 lakh cases have been booked in Andhra Pradesh alone, which clearly indicates the extent road safety rules are being violated. These include talking over mobile phone while driving, rash driving and over-speeding, drunken driving, over-loading and transporting people in goods vehicle, etc.

Of these, the licenses of over 2,900 drivers have been suspended for 3-6 months and it was made clear that if found driving during the suspension period, they will be sent for prosecution.

Similar strict actions are also required across the country as a majority of the vehicle users are not at all bothering about the road safety and are blatantly violating all sorts of road safety rules including signal (red) jumping in busy areas, which is a serious threat for other road-users, even in the presence of CCTVs and Traffic Police.

Siddu says he is ready to make way for Dalit as Chief Minister

Mysuru, May 14- With most of the exit polls predicting a hung Assembly, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah yesterday conveyed his readiness to adapt to changing scenarios by declaring that he is ready to step aside from the race for Chief Minister's post if the situation so demands.

Speaking to press persons at his Ramakrishnanagar residence, Siddharamaiah said that it is the prerogative of the Congress High Command to take a call on the issue of Dalit Chief Minister.

Maintaining that he was ready to make way for anybody that the High Command chooses, he said that he had no objection for anybody among Dalits to become the Chief Minister.

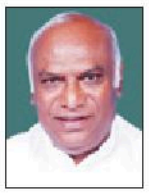
Asserting that this was his last election, he said that, however, he will remain in active politics.

"I will have no contentions if the Party High Command desires to make a Dalit the Chief Minister. The MLAs have to give their opinion and the High Command should also agree," he reiterated.

The change in Siddharamaiah's stand is being seen as an expression of his readiness to prepare the ground for the post-result scenario in the event of a hung Assembly and the Congress is compelled to seek the support of JD(S) to form a coalition Government to keep BJP away from power.

Soon after Siddharamaiah made this statement, senior party leader Mallikarjun Kharge and KPCC President Dr. G. Parameshwara, also frontrunners for the coveted post, said that they would shoulder the responsibility, albeit reluctantly.

Reacting to Siddharamaiah's statement, KPCC President Dr. G. Parameshwara said in Bengaluru that the Congress High Command will decide the Chief Minister after seeking the opinion of all the MLAs.



In Kalaburagi, Congress leader in the Lok Sabha Mallikarjun Kharge said: "I am not one who is out seeking the CM's post with an application in my hand. This issue has come and gone many times in my long political career. If it has to happen, it will happen." But not everybody in the party is in favour of the Dalit CM pitch.

Water Resources Minister M.B. Patil, batting in favour of Siddharamaiah, said that traditionally, persons who had led the party during elections, had been made Chief Ministers by the party.

Chief Minister Siddharamaiah speaking to media persons at his Ramakrishnanagar residence in city yesterday as Chamarajanagar MP R. Dhruvanarayan looks on.

Meanwhile, BJP State President B.S. Yeddyurappa, reacting to Siddharamaiah's statement that he is ready to make way for a Dalit as the CM, said that it is a clear indication of Siddharamaiah accepting defeat. "Siddharamaiah has accepted defeat. He is seeing the writing on the wall. BJP will win the election," he pointed out.

BJP MP B. Sriramulu who is contesting against the Chief Minister at Badami was more vocal in his attack. "Arrogant and audacious that Siddharamaiah is, he (CM) is now changing his tune after the exit polls. The man who was all along asserting that he will continue to be the CM, has realised the impending defeat," Sriramulu remarked.

Union Minister D.V. Sadananda Gowda too took a dig at Siddharamaiah's Dalit Chief Minister remark, saying that the Chief Minister has changed his stand sensing defeat.

Fuel prices hiked two days after Karnataka elections

New Delhi, May 14- After a 19-day pre-Karnataka poll hiatus, petrol price was today hiked by 17 paise a litre and diesel by 21 paise as PSU oil firms began passing on the spike witnessed in international rates to consumers.

Petrol price in Delhi was hiked to Rs.74.80 per litre from Rs.74.63 while diesel rates were increased to Rs.66.14 a litre from Rs.65.93, according to a price notification issued by State-owned oil marketing companies.

With this, diesel prices have touched a record high while petrol is at a 56-month peak.

Oil PSUs, who had kept rates unchanged for nearly three weeks before Karnataka went to polls despite input cost spiking, reverted to daily revision in prices no sooner had the state voted to elect a new government on Saturday.

State-owned oil marketing companies are estimated to have lost about Rs.500 crore as they absorbed higher cost resulting from the spike in international oil rates and fall in rupee against the US dollar.

Oil PSUs, which have been since June last year revising auto fuel prices on a daily basis to reflect changes in the cost, have kept pump rates static since April 24, an analysis of daily price notification issued by oil companies showed.

Oil PSUs have refused to acknowledge if the freeze followed a government diktat so as to help ruling BJP in Karnataka.

Indian Oil Corp (IOC) Chairman Sanjiv Singh last week said that the state-owned firms were "temporarily moderating" prices to avoid sharp spikes and panic among consumers.

Petrol and diesel prices were last revised on April 24 when they were hiked by 13 paise each. But prices were frozen thereafter. This despite benchmark international rate for petrol going up from USD 78.84 per barrel, which was used for raising the price to Rs. 74.63 a litre on April 24, to USD 82.98 now, according to sources privy to fuel pricing methodology.

At Mysuru

Meanwhile, the revised price of Petrol today in Mysuru city stands at Rs.78.46 (Old price Rs.78.29) and that of Diesel stands at Rs.67.00 (old price Rs.66.79).

Ramya, Prakash Rai fail to cast votes

Tweets outrage against actors; hashtag goes viral

Ramya

Prakash Rai

Bengaluru, May 14- Actor and Congress media social cell Chief Ramya (Divya Spandana), who campaigned vigorously influencing people to vote and actor Prakash Rai, who through his new movement "Just Asking" has become a controversial figure, have both been mercilessly trolled on the social media by the netizens.

The reason for the outrage on the social media is both the actors — Ramya and Prakash Rai — have not exercised their franchise. Ramya had to vote at the PLD Bank booth on K.R. Road in Mandya. But she failed to turn up. Similarly, Prakash Rai also did not bother to vote. Both of them have been taken to task through tweets by the angry public. "What moral right have those two to talk about politics when they do not vote?" is the tweet doing the rounds and they have been ridiculed as "Number one citizen."

The outpouring of anger on the tweets said that Ramya and Prakash Rai, who spoke so vehemently against Prime Minister Narendra Modi, have forgotten their responsibility.

A few others have tweeted, "Ramya has not voted, ask her to go to Pakistan" while another to Ramya read, "First be responsible and learn to vote."

Targeting actor Prakash Rai, who had become a centre of controversy, starting the movement "Just Asking" after the killing of journalist Gauri Lankesh, has not exercised his franchise, leading people to question his honesty and integrity through tweets. Apart from Ramya and Prakash Rai there are a few more celebrities including actor Sumalatha, wife of former Minister and actor Ambarish, who did not vote. However, Ambarish did cast his vote in Mandya.

Hence a #NotVoted hashtag has gone viral against those actors who have not voted.

BAN ON HIGHWAY BARS

SC asks State Govt. to consider hoteliers' plea on serving liquor

New Delhi, May 14- There seems to be some good news for hoteliers as the Supreme Court (SC) has asked the Karnataka Government to consider the plea of over 1,000 hotels which served liquor to their guests and customers, but suffered adverse consequences of the Apex Court's ban on such vends around National and State Highways.

A Bench of Chief Justice Dipak Misra and Justices A.M. Khanwilkar and D.Y. Chandrachud told Additional Advocate General Devadatt Kamat, representing the State Government, to decide the plea by the Karnataka State Tourism Hotel Owners Association and others within six weeks.

The hotels owners, led by senior advocate H.N. Nagmohan Das, challenged a Karnataka High Court judgement of June 30, 2017 that had declined to interfere into the ban imposed by the SC on sale of liquor around 500 metres of National Highways and 220 metres of State Highways.

The Bench, however, said that the Court had already clarified the order on Feb.23 this year and earlier as well. The Apex Court had then said the State Government would have discretion to declare a particular area to be under the local self-government and Municipal limits.

The Court had, on July 11, 2017, exempted Municipal areas from the prohibition, saying the ban was intended to cover National and State Highways inter-connecting cities, towns and villages on the way.

The ban, imposed by a Dec.2016 judgement, was to prevent drunken-driving and road accidents along the Highways. "The order does not prohibit licensed establishments within Municipal areas," the Court had clarified.

The hoteliers felt aggrieved with the Apex Court's order as their premises fell within a range of 500 and 220 metres. They claimed they were having permanent buildings with over 20 and 30 rooms, which cannot be shifted. They said they used to sell liquor to guests, casual visitors and customers only.

In Mysuru, there are 46 bars and restaurants on the State Highways and 119 on National Highways. In all, there are 495 bars and restaurants and the licences of 330 outlets were renewed on June 30, 2017 as they did not come under the Supreme Court order. The licences of 165 bars were not renewed. The latest SC order seems to have come as a relief to them.

Hassan Soldier dies of heart attack in Rajasthan

Former Minister K.H. Hanumegowda passes away in Hassan

Hanumegowda

Hassan, May 14 - Former Minister K.H. Hanumegowda, who was suffering from age-related health problems, passed away at a hospital in Hassan last evening. He was 88.

He leaves behind two sons, two daughters and a host of relatives and well-wishers. Another son Suresh had pre-deceased him.

Hanumegowda, a four-time MLA from Hassan, was the Minister for Command Area Development Authority for a brief period in the Veerappa Moily Government. He was elected to the State Assembly in 1972 on National Congress (Organisation) ticket.

He was re-elected in 1978 as an Indian National Congress leader. He won from Hassan again in 1989 from the Congress. Later, he joined the BJP in 1996 and won an Assembly seat in 1999.

Later, he had severed ties with the BJP as well.

He contested from Hassan in 2008 on Bahujan Samaj Party ticket, but lost. In the 2013 elections, he announced support for Congress candidate H.K. Mahesh. More recently, he had kept himself away from public events because of health issues.

The body of Hanumegowda was kept at his residence in Kuvempunagar near Aravinda School for the public to pay their last respects and the last rites will be performed at his farm in Surapura later in the day today.

Mistaken child marriage, officials face wrath of villagers

Mandya, May 14 (US)- The officers of Child Welfare Committee and the Department of Women and Child Welfare were reportedly threatened and assaulted by people when they made an attempt to stop an alleged child marriage which was being solemnised in Shikaripura village of Nagamangala taluk in the district yesterday.

On a tip-off, the officers, led by Child Helpline Officer Sujata, were said to have gone to the village where a minor girl was about to be wedded to a boy.

The relatives of the girl supported by villagers asserted that no child marriage was being performed. When media persons too arrived to cover the incident the villagers reportedly threatened and assaulted the officers and media persons. When the situation was reaching a flash point, Nagamangala Police were summoned who managed to bring the situation under control and allowed the officers to leave.

However, Sujata said that later she got the age of the girl to be married checked from the school records of the girl, it was found that the girl was 19 years old and hence, no complaint of child marriage was registered.

Girl sets herself ablaze

Pavithra

Nanjangud, May 14 (Ravi&KS)- An 18-year-old girl reportedly committed suicide by setting herself ablaze at her house in Channapattana village near Hullahalli in the taluk on Saturday morning.

The deceased girl has been identified as Pavithra, daughter of Kempamma. Pavithra had passed her 2nd PUC exams with distinction recently.

Pavithra, who poured kerosene on her before setting herself ablaze when the family members were away, was noticed by the neighbours who rushed her to K.R. Hospital in Mysuru, but she breathed her last yesterday morning after failing to respond to the treatment.

Meanwhile, one Koosaiah, in his complaint to Hullahali Police, has stated that Pavithra was suffering from frequent stomach pain and unable to bear the pain, she (Pavitha) had committed suicide.

But there are rumours that a youth from the same village was harassing Pavithra since a few months and unable to bear the harassment, she has committed suicide which the Police have rubbished.

Traffic Restricted

around Counting Centres in City tomorrow from 6 am to 10 pm

Mysuru, May 14 (PM&NNN)- All types of vehicular movement will be restricted on the roads where the counting centres are located for counting of votes for the 11 Constituencies in the District, said Police Commissioner Dr. A. Subramanyeswara Rao.

The counting of votes will be held tomorrow (May 15) for seven Constituencies at the newly-constructed Maharani's College of Commerce and Management on Valmiki Road in Vinayakanagar and of the remaining four at NIE-IT in Koorgalli, located on the KRS Road leading from Hunsur Road.

In a press release, Dr. Rao has stated that as there will be a huge rush of public, the supporters of political parties, the counting officials and staff, the vehicle movement has been restricted to maintain peace and order near the counting centres. The order will be in force on May 15 from 6 am to 10 pm.

Maharani's Counting Centre: In view of the counting to be held at Maharani's Commerce and Management College on Valmiki Road, all types of traffic have been banned from Vinayakanagar (Paduvarahalli) Road traffic signal junction to the Kalamandira Traffic junction on both sides of the Road.

On Valmiki Road, all types of vehicular movement has been restricted from Hunsur Road junction to Kalidasa Road junction and vice-versa.

However, the vehicles of election officials, political parties' agents, counting officials and the media are allowed to move on these roads.

Also right from Mathrumandali Circle on Adipampa Road up to Valmiki Road, the movement of all types of vehicles have been banned. Again from St. Joseph's Institutions on Hunsur Road up to Paduvarahalli junction, all types of heavy vehicle movement have been banned.

How to reach Counting Centres: Media representatives, candidates who have contested in the election, agents, counting officials and staff must take a turn at the KRS Road-Valmiki Road-Adipampa Road junction to the right, go on Adi Pampa Road and take a left turn at Narayanaswamy Block and park their vehicles at the ground behind Mahadeshwara Temple and walk up to the counting centre in Maharani's College.

Vehicle parking

Arrangements have been made for the public to park their vehicles on either side of Swami Vivekananda Statue on Adi Pampa Road and Valmiki Road junction, on either side of the road at the Akashvani Circle, on the road to the west of Kalidasa Road junction and in Manasagangothri campus, Kalamandira premises and Kukkarahalli Lake west side.

Road traffic ban around NIE-IT

Similarly, the movement of all types of vehicles on Mysuru-Hunsur Road towards KRS Road's KIADB High Tension Double Road up to BEML Police checkpost near Bastipura, have been banned. However, the media representatives, candidates who have contested in the election, agents, counting officials and staff have been exempted from this ban.

Vehicle parking: The media representatives, candidates who have contested in the election, agents, counting officials and staff can park their vehicles at the playground in NIE-IT.

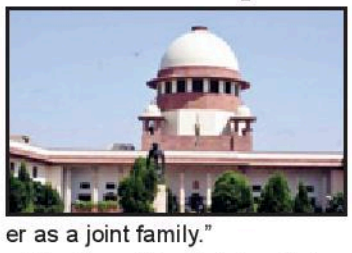
The public are allowed to park their two-wheelers and Light Motor Vehicles at BEML's Parade Grounds. Also the public coming from Bastipura side can park their vehicles at the grounds near the Police checkpost.

Domestic Violence Act for divorced women too: Apex Court

New Delhi, May 14 - The Domestic Violence Act — meant to punish men who abuse women in a relationship — extends to all man-woman relationships, and also protects divorced women from their former husbands, the Supreme Court has upheld.

A three-judge Bench of Justices Ranjan Gogoi, R. Banumathi and Naveen Sinha confirmed a Rajasthan High Court ruling of 2013 that the term 'domestic violence' cannot be restrained to marital relations alone.

The Supreme Court's recent order, based on a question of law raised by advocate Dushyant Parashar, found no reason to differ with the High Court's conclusion that 'domestic relationship' includes "consanguinity, marriage, a relationship in the nature of marriage, adoption or as family members living together as a joint family."



The Apex Court did not intervene with the interpretation that 'domestic relationship' is not confined to the "relationship as husband and wife or a relationship in the nature of marriage, but it includes other relationship as well as sisters, mother, etc."

"Domestic relationship includes any relationship between two persons who either live at the present moment or have at any point of time in the past lived together in a shared household... Absence of subsisting domestic relationship in no manner prevents the Court from granting certain reliefs specified under the Act," the High Court's reasoning was upheld by the Bench.

The Court held that domestic violence can continue even after divorce and the reach of the Act should not be shackled by confining only for the protection of women living in marriage. It illustrated how a divorcee husband could resort to violence by entering the workplace of his former wife to commit an act of violence, or even attempt to communicate with her, or threaten or cause violence to her relatives or dependants or any other person. It amounts to domestic violence if the former husband tried to dispossess the woman from a jointly-owned property or refuse to return her 'stridhan' or valuable security or other property. The Act brings all these acts of violence within its ambit.

'Prior permission needed for victory processions'

Mysuru, May 14- With barely a few hours left for tomorrow's counting of votes, the City Police are taking no chances to ensure that no untoward incidents occur during the counting.

Speaking to SOM this morning, City Police Commissioner Dr. A. Subramanyeswara Rao said that prohibitory orders under Section 144 of Cr.PC has been clamped across the city from 6 am to 12 midnight tomorrow in view of vote counting.

Pointing out that taking out victory rallies and processions and also cracker bursting and the likes are banned, he said that however rallies can be taken out only after the total completion of the counting process, with Police permission.

Advising the people against gathering in large numbers near the counting centres, open spaces, public joints and such other places in the backdrop of prohibitory orders, Dr. A.S. Rao sought the co-operation of the public for maintaining law and order in the city during the counting.

He also cautioned that legal action will be initiated against those inciting disturbance and violence when the counting process is on tomorrow.

Second bird census held at Ranganathittu

Census to be conducted four times in a year

Srirangapatna, May 14 (KS)- In a bid to pitch for the International Wetland Site status later in the year through the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change (MoEF & CC) and to bring in the best international conservation practices at the sanctuary, the second bird census of the season was conducted at Ranganathittu yesterday to collect data of the bird species in the bird sanctuary.

About 100 volunteers from Mysuru, Bengaluru and other parts of the State took part in the census, which began as early as 5.30 am and concluded at 10.30 am. The census was followed by a workshop by ecologist T.K. Roy, Member of the International Wetland organisation.

During the census, the volunteers, equipped with binoculars, went around the bird sanctuary in boats and collected details about the birds besides identifying nearly 120 species of birds, including the Spot-Billed Pelican, Painted Stork, Egret, Stone Plover, Ibis, Baya Weaver, River Tern, Spoon Bill, etc. The census also takes into account the surrounding vegetation on which the birds depend, and this is expected to result in more scientific landscape management.

Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) V. Yedukondalu said that the first bird census was held in March and the plan is to conduct four census in a year as the sanctuary houses various species during different times. "Some birds arrive here late summer while there are many bird species that nest here only during winter. Hence, we plan to conduct census four times every year to create a database of the birds that come to Ranganathittu," he said.

The first bid for international wetland site for Ranganathittu is expected to take a year for the formalities to complete and the proposal would be submitted for consideration during the international meet of the countries which have signed for the Ramsar Convention.

The Ramsar Convention is an inter-governmental treaty for the conservation and management of wetlands for which more than 90% of the member States of the United Nations, including India, are signatories.

The convention was adopted in Ramsar, Iran, in 1971. There are 26 Ramsar sites in the country, but none in the State.

One of the criteria is that the wetland should support at least 1% of the population of any endangered bird species and Ranganathittu supports more than 3% of the world population of Spot-Billed Pelicans and Painted Storks.

Apart from birds, Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary also supports endangered species such as Mugger Crocodile, River Otters, and Mahseer fish, which is unique to the Cauvery River and is on the verge of extinction.

DCF V. Yedukondalu said that there was every possibility of Ranganathittu qualifying as an International Wetland Site as it fulfils many of the criteria for it.

He further said that there are nine criteria and meeting just one was sufficient to qualify as an International Wetland Site besides stating that Ranganathittu meets two or three criteria.

Assembly: Counting tomorrow

District poll staff making arrangements for counting of Chamundeshwari seat votes at Maharani's centre. Picture right shows the para-military forces being briefed ahead of counting.

All the strong rooms where EVMs, control units and VVPAT machines are kept in the centres, have been totally secured and sealed, with the authorities leaving no chance for ensuring fool-proof security. The counting centres will have a media station, health kiosk, District Electoral Officers' Office, Poll Observers' Office and a computer room with internet, phone and hotspot facilities.

Every counting hall in each of the two centres will have 14 tables. Only select agents of a candidate are allowed to see the counting process through a mesh partition that is installed around the hall. Prior to the counting, every EVM will be showed to the candidate or his/her agents before unsealing.

The entire scenario at the centre and the counting process will be video-recorded, for which over 80 CCTV cameras have been installed at vantage points such as counting centre entry point, centre building entry, counting spot entry, strong room entry, inside strong room, corridors, around the building and also at media centre, health centre, DEO office and poll observers office.

After the completion of every round of counting, the respective Returning Officer (RO) will announce the number of votes that each candidate has secured through a specified mike.

The authorities have installed a few mikes around the centres and also loudspeakers along the roads leading to the centres to enable the public to know about the trend. Besides, a LED TV has been installed at media centre. Barricades have been erected all around the centres, to prevent trespassing into the centre. Only authorised officials and persons holding photo ID cards will be allowed inside the counting centre.

While paramilitary forces are guarding the strong room, the Police are busily engaged in maintaining law and order around the centres. The winning candidate will be issued certificate at the spot after the official announcement of results, according to poll authorities who also said that Valmiki Road will be out of bounds for public tomorrow.

Hike in power tariff

The KERC held consultations with power consumers and companies from Feb. 19 to Mar. 2, 2018 during which KERC officials allayed the fears of consumers, he added.

The KERC was to revise the tariff in April but the decision was put on hold on the State Government's request as it did not want to antagonise the voters ahead of the Assembly elections, it is learnt.

The KERC had hiked the power tariff by 48 paise a unit in Mar. 2017, an increase of 8 per cent as compared with 2016.

Vaastu-Feng Shui & Bio-energetics

By S.B.S.Surendran
Accredited Master Feng Shui Consultant

Enhancing luck and wealth

A Feng Shui is all about energy, and the basic laws of energy are universal and work the same way, no matter where you are geographically located. A piece of land without any structure on it allows unhindered energy to flow through and over the plot. When a structure is put up on a plot we first dig the earth, put up walls and fix doors, windows etc. This in simple terms would amount to creating an imbalance in the equilibrium for energy movement in that piece of plot.

The study of aligning your space to ensure that the occupants are not affected by an imbalance caused by these elements and placing cures or countering them with proper planning of room deigns, positions, placement of doors and windows through the adaptation of Vastu or Feng Shui is the key to a good home or office.

Feng Shui, the Ancient Chinese Art of space design, follows the tenets of Bio geometry to bring in the "Life force" or "Chi' energy into a building which empowers the place with positive vibes. This technique of locating the earth's energy flow and countering is an important aspect of Feng Shui on-site analysis.

Feng Shui can effectively bring about changes in a person's life and not only for wealth and health but can improve harmony and create cordial atmosphere at home.

A good Feng Shui house has good Feng Shui anchored in its main energy zones or sectors of the property.

The fundamental principle of any Feng Shui or Vastu design is based on the premise that natures energies should be in balance in a place of dwelling or work. Any Energy imbalance could cause disturbances and could lead to discomfort and illness too. Human body and mind has a great impact and gets affected due to change in energy in the immediate surroundings.

One can start aligning the space by looking at important areas in a property and can begin with the door position and orientations. While designing doors, one needs to pay attention to the windows too. Windows are the space where energy enters and leaves the room although they are secondary to the doors. Windows in line with the door are considered bad as the energy coming in rushes out through the window.

Check your bedroom for overpowering decor, furniture or even artefacts. Excess shades of blue, images of water falls, or water features like aquarium and fountain within the bedroom is bad Feng Shui. Bed room is the sanctuary for relaxation; hence it is beneficial if a proper design and décor is maintained in this zone. Using wooden bed/cot is preferred as wood is benign and warm as against metal beds, which are cold and oppressive, and metal is said to be associated with the planet Saturn in astrology too.

You can add the following décor in various zones to enhance the energy and prosperity of the home:

a. Place figurine of horses and elephants in the vicinity of main door in the lobby.

Rayudu hits maiden hundred as Chennai beat Hyderabad

Pune, May 14- It was the game Chennai Super Kings needed to win to close in on a place in the knockout stages and Mahendra Singh Dhoni's boys did it in style as they beat Sunrisers Hyderabad — the Goliaths of this season of IPL — by 8 wickets to register their 8th win in this edition of the cash-rich league and sit pretty with 16 points from 12 games. While they are technically in a comfortable zone, another win will confirm their place in the last four.

Ambati Rayudu finally registered a hundred after playing some quality knocks right through the season, eclipsing his previous best score of 82 against Royal Challengers Bangalore on April 25 in Bengaluru. He almost had Dhoni robbing him the milestone, before the skipper took a single with the team needing 2 and Rayudu needing a single to reach the three-figure mark. Brought into the India team for the ODI series against England, Rayudu extended his celebration as CSK are now almost through to the knockouts barring a mathematical scenario where they lose the remaining games and others win handsomely.

Chasing 180 on a wicket which looked dicey during the SRH innings, Shane Watson and Rayudu started with panache. Not dropping a sweat, they kept taking the Hyderabad bowling — considered the best in the tournament — apart and sent them into the stands at the Maharashtra Cricket Association Stadium in Pune. When SRH finally picked their first wicket, Watson (57) run out trying to snatch a quick single, the score read 134/1 in the 14th over with Chennai needing only 46 more to win off 39 balls. Suresh Raina was dismissed for just 2 as Kane Williamson picked a smart catch off Sandeep Sharma's bowling. M.S. Dhoni was the next man in amid huge cheers from the Chennai fans in Pune.

Things went from bad to worse for SRH when they dropped Dhoni on 2, by Manish Pandey at long-on. After that, it was nothing but a walk in the park for Chennai as Rayudu showed his class to finish things off in a rush. In the end, Rayudu was unbeaten on 100 as Chennai went home with 6 balls to spare.

Ambati Rayudu was chosen as the Player of the Match.

Rajasthan Royals beat Mumbai Indians

Jos Buttler scored his fifth consecutive half-century as Rajasthan Royals increased their chances of reaching the playoffs with a convincing seven-wicket win over Mumbai Indians.

Chasing 169 to win, Buttler dominated from the word go and continued his sensational form as he stayed unbeaten on 94 off just 53 deliveries. This after he lost his opening partner D'Arcy Short early after Jasprit Bumrah removed him in the first over.

Captain Ajinkya Rahane and Buttler then put on a 95-run partnership for the second wicket with Rahane proving to be a calming influence for Rajasthan.

By the time he departed for a 36-ball 37 the job was more or less done for the visitors. Samson then joined Buttler and hit a couple of big ones, he wanted to finish things in style but was dismissed on 26 by Pandya. Buttler then deposited the next ball into the stands as Rajasthan reached the target in just 18 overs.

Earlier, Evin Lewis smashed a 42-ball 60 and Hardik Pandya's cameo of 36 helped Mumbai Indians reach 168.

Jos Buttler was chosen as the Player of the Match.

Madrid Open

Zverev defeats Thiem for third Masters title

Madrid, May 14- World number three Alexander Zverev won his third Masters title by beating Dominic Thiem in the final of the Madrid Open on Sunday. The 21-year-old German, who did not drop a set in the tournament, broke early in both sets to win 6-4 6-4. Austrian world number seven Thiem, who reached the final last year, had beaten Rafa Nadal on his way to the decider.

But Zverev comfortably controlled both sets with a greater range of shots as Thiem struggled to exert himself.

The German, who did not face a break point all tournament, looked confident as he sealed victory with the first of his two Championship points to continue his preparation for the French Open, which starts on 27 May. He becomes only the fifth active player to win at least three Masters 1000 titles - joining Rafael Nadal, Roger Federer, Novak Djokovic and Andy Murray - and will now go on to try to defend his Rome title this week.

Betting fever grips State on vote counting eve

Mysuru, May 14 (BCT) - Even as the Karnataka Legislative Assembly elections are just over, many people across the State are now busy in making wild calculations about the winning horses and are betting on them to make a quick buck on vote counting eve.

News about winning candidates and heavyweights who are bound to lose is heard everywhere and the betting fever is felt at tea corners, petty shops, hotels, saloons and at the gossip joints (arali kattes). People have started visiting illegal bookies as betting is banned in public under the Law.

These incidents are quite notable in semi-urban and rural areas. Even though surveys are predicting hung Assembly, people are betting more on parties coming to power on their own, sources said. Prominently, supporters who were engaged in campaigning for their respective candidates are presently busy speculating on who might secure how many votes and who may win.

Contrary to the results of pre-poll surveys and exit polls that indicated a hung Assembly, BJP is a firm favourite among the bookies. Sources told Star of Mysore that bookies are offering odds of 11 to 10 for BJP. This means, if a punter bets Rs. 10, Rs. 11 is the stake offered by the bookie if BJP gets the magic number of 112 seats as the election is conducted for 222 seats.

This translates to a takeaway of Rs. 21. The second favourite is Congress. The JD(S), whose chances of achieving the magic number are bleak, is in the third slot.

The party-wise betting market in Mysuru and Bengaluru is estimated to be worth around Rs. 800 crore to Rs. 900 crore.

Why is BJP a hot favourite?

The personal political capital that Prime Minister Narendra Modi has invested in the campaign in Karnataka this time is far greater than in 2013, when he entered the arena in the last week of campaign and addressed only a few meetings in coastal Karnataka and Bengaluru. Also, for BJP, a majority of the exit polls have given it a comfortable majority.

Going by the recent history, the BJP that had won only 40 seats in 2013 thanks to the factionalism and scandal-ridden government headed by B.S. Yeddyurappa in 2008 (the State also saw three CMs — D.V. Sadananda Gowda and Jagadish Shettar), bounced back in the 2014 Lok Sabha elections and won 17 LS seats. This, the party attributes to Modi wave.

Party leaders believe that the Modi wave will work in the latest Karnataka elections too. They cite the example of crowds gathered at Modi's election rallies across the State and also compare the crowd numbers to rallies by other political party leaders.

However, critics of Modi say that the BJP performed well in LS elections in Karnataka held 2009 than in LS elections of 2014. They say that in 2009 LS polls, when BJP reached its nadir nationwide, it had won 19 seats in Karnataka, clearly indicating that before the advent of Modi wave, it did better in the State.

What is working against Congress?

Congress has slipped to the second place in the betting market despite pre-poll surveys giving the party a comfortable lead. A couple of exit polls too predicted a narrow win for Congress.

According to sources, what is working against Congress is the statements of Chief Minister Siddharamaiah. The CM, who all along the campaigns and even before had been saying that he will be the next CM and Congress will get a majority, suddenly changed his statement after the voting that he will make way for a Dalit CM.

Speaking to reporters at his residence yesterday, Siddharamaiah said he was ready to step aside for a Dalit in the State's top post if the party high command desires. The comment is seen as a sign of the party considering the possibility of a split verdict and anticipating the demands of JD(S) Supremo H.D. Deve Gowda, who has no fondness for Siddharamaiah.

Predicting a split verdict, many exit polls said Deve Gowda would emerge as the king-maker. The former Prime Minister, who had alliances with both parties earlier, has given a strict no-no to a tie up with the BJP. His party is said to have conveyed to Congress that it was its (Congress) responsibility to reach out to him (Gowda) if it did not get majority. And for Deve Gowda's support to the Congress, Siddharamaiah's exit from the top post is seen as a possible pre-condition.

Even Siddharamaiah's Cabinet colleague D.K. Shivakumar indicated that the question of Chief Ministership is open in the event of the Congress forming government. He told reporters, "We will decide who will be the Chief Minister later. But Siddharamaiah is our leader."

Whether BJP will form the government or Congress will retain power will be known only by tomorrow evening. Unless there is a hung Assembly and parties take time to form an alliance.

Cops to keep track on illegal betting

Meanwhile, City Police Commissioner Dr. A. Subramanyeswara Rao, speaking to SOM this morning said, "Information on betting taking place in city has come to my notice. I have instructed City Crime Branch (CCB) ACP B.R. Lingappa to look into it and keep a track of it. If the information is true, legal action would be initiated against those indulged in betting. So far, I have no concrete evidence against betting, but pursuing the matter based on the information."

Rampant betting alleged in high-profile Chamundeshwari

Stake includes livestock and agricultural lands too

Mysuru, May 14 (US&YDS)- As the time starts ticking for the Assembly election results, betting seems to have become rampant in Chamundeshwari Constituency too possibly owing to its high-profile status. Obviously, the punters are said to be having a field-day.

Chamundeshwari Constituency has evolved a prestige battle between Congress candidate and Chief Minister Siddharamaiah and JD(S) candidate and MLA G.T. Devegowda. That could be the only prime factor to trigger betting with participation by supporters of the two leaders.

According to a source, the stake for betting is not just limited to cash but also include livestock and agricultural land. However, the betting seems to be lying dormant possibly restricted to close and trusted confidants of punters.

Post-election: Speculations trigger betting in Mandya

Mandya, May 14 (US&NG)- The sugar district, after witnessing hectic campaigning for the Assembly polls and with the result to be announced tomorrow, now seems to be on a speculation and betting fever.

There seems to be a straight fight between the Congress and the JD(S) with an unlimited flow of cash and freebies to woo the voters.

The citizens feel that the Election Commission had failed to stop the cash flow. They alleged that the Excise and Police Departments were hyping on a small quantity of liquor and cash seized which citizens feel was just the tip of an ice-berg.

The speculation fever between JD(S) and Congress supporters in seven Constituencies of the district obviously paves way for betting which seems to be predominant in Srirangapatna, Melukote, Nagamangala and Malavalli Constituencies.

Assembly Elections: Training for Counting Officials held in city

District Urban Development Cell Project Director and Nodal Officer for Manpower and Training R. Loknath conducting training for Counting Officials at Senate Bhavan in city this morning.

Mysuru, May 14 (PM&NNN)- District Urban Development Cell Project Director and Nodal Officer for Manpower and Training R. Loknath conducted training for 462 Counting Officials that includes a Micro-Observer, Counting Supervisor and his Assistant for each of the 14 tables in the 11 constituencies in the District, this morning at the Senate Bhavan here. The counting of votes for the 15th Karnataka Assembly will be held tomorrow (May 15).

Loknath, through a power point presentation, guided the Counting Officers through every step. He told them to take utmost precaution before announcing the number of votes that a candidate has garnered after every round. "Only after you are fully convinced that it is right should you announce the figures," he said.

If the Counting Supervisor and his Assistant find any discrepancy in the EVM (Electronic Voting Machine) then randomly a VVPAT outcome should be taken and it is the Returning Officer who will take a decision on announcing the result, he said.

He also cautioned the Returning Officers that they have to be extremely careful before signing Form 20 (which declares a candidate as elected). "If there is an oral complaint from the agent of the candidate then you must ignore it and insist on a written complaint. If you still find that it is not in a proper format, then you can reject it," said Loknath.

The Counting Supervisors and the Assistants should report to the Returning Officer tomorrow by 6 am. No one is allowed to carry mobile phones inside the counting centres, he said.

Rounds of counting: The high profile Chamundeshwari Constituency with high stakes for both Chief Minister Siddharamaiah and JD(S) candidate G.T. Devegowda has the highest number of counting rounds at 24, while T. Narasipur is the least with 16 rounds of counting.

The number of counting rounds in the other nine constituencies in Mysuru District are: Periyapatna-17, K.R. Nagar-18, Hunsur-20, H.D. Kote-20, Nanjangud-18, KR Constituency-19, Chamaraja-18, NR Constituency-20 and Varuna, in which CM Siddharamaiah's son Dr. Yathindra is contesting, will have 19 rounds of counting.

Centre submits Cauvery Draft Scheme to Supreme Court

New Delhi, May 14 - The Central Government today submitted a Cauvery Draft Scheme to the Supreme Court, a day before the counting of votes of the May 12 Karnataka Assembly elections.

The Supreme Court on May 8 had slammed the Centre for showing 'sheer contempt of Court' by not framing a Cauvery Scheme.

Chief Justice of India (CJI) Dipak Misra, after receiving the submission from the Union Water Resources Secretary U.P. Singh, who was personally present in the Court, said, "We will not go into the legality or propriety of the Cauvery Draft Scheme."

Tamil Nadu, Kerala, Puducherry and Karnataka have all been given copies of the scheme to verify if it conforms to the Supreme Court's Feb.16, 2018 verdict.

Meanwhile, the Centre said that it was open to any nomenclature for the implementing authority of the scheme — Board, Authority or Committee. The nomenclature could be left to the riparian States to debate or, if the Supreme Court wishes, the Union Cabinet could clear the draft under Section 6A of the Inter State River Disputes Act.

The Apex Court has set the next date for hearing on May 16.

WORD OF THE DAY

Neatnik

Pronunciation: neet-nik
Meaning: A person who is extremely neat about surroundings, appearance, etc. Neatnik was formed in opposition to the supposedly scruffy, unshaven beatnik (coined in 1958). The suffix -nik, still unnaturalized in English, is of immediate Yiddish origin, from Slavic (Russian, Ukrainian). English peacenik, also derogatory, dates from 1962. Neatnik entered English in 1959.

THE ODD WORD

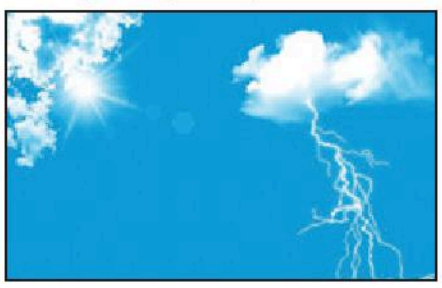
Argle-bargle

Copious but meaningless talk or writing.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A bolt from the blue

Meaning: A complete surprise, like a bolt of lightning from a clear blue sky.



Origin: This has the feel of a Shakespearian or Biblical expression but, as a phrase in English, it isn't as old as it sounds. There are several forms of it: 'out of the blue', 'a bolt out of the blue', etc. The earliest citation is Thomas Carlyle, in The French Revolution, 1837:
"Arrestment, sudden really as a bolt out of the Blue, has hit strange victims."
English versions of this expression probably derive as translations of the work of the Roman lyric poet Quintus Horatius Flaccus, better known as Horace. A translation from the Latin of Horace's Ode 34 begins: My prayers were scant, my offerings few,
While witless wisdom fool'd my mind;
But now I trim my sails anew,
And trace the course I left behind.
For lo! the Sire of heaven on high,
By whose fierce bolts the clouds are riven,
To-day through an unclouded sky
Thomas Carlyle was, like many educated men of his era, a classical scholar and would have been well acquainted with Horace's Odes.

Aishwarya Rai Bachchan's Red Carpet Look at Cannes

On Saturday, marking the first day of her 17th year at Cannes Film Festival, Aishwarya Rai Bachchan walked the red carpet in this fantastic butterfly gown of fashion designer Michael Cinco, which had the shades of violet, red and blue threadworks and embellished in Swarovski crystals and French pailettes. "The 10-foot long train took 3,000 of man-hours to finish and intricately hand crafted to make it this exquisitely flighty and timeless," read a post on Michael Cinco's official Instagram page. The 44-year-old actress opted for Rami Kadi couture for her second red carpet appearance on Sunday. Though she played safe with the couture style, Aishwarya raised the bar with the avant-garde hairdo. Earlier, Aishwarya sported sleek straight hair and sometimes messy curly hairdo on the red carpet.
